LAWMAKING IN ALBANY.

THE ANTI-POLICY BILL ADVANCED TO A THIRD READING.

A Motion to Recommit It Is Lost by a Vote of 56 to 47-Senator Ahearn Proposes That All of the New York City Magistrates Shall Receive a Salary of $7,000.

ALBANY, Feb. 26.-The Fallows bill, which is intended to do away with the evils of policy playing, was fought out in the Assembly tonight. The bill came up on the order of second reading and was ordered to a third reading without amendment. Mr. R. Gardiner of Rochester moved to recommit the bill for a hearing, to which Mr. Fallows objected, Mr. Gardiner wished to amend the bill so as to lessen the sweeping provision that any person found with a policy slip in his possession is to be deemed a common gambler and the first offence is to constitute a misdemeanor and the second offence a felony. Mr. Gardiner's amendment was to the effect that if the policy slip was found it would have to be proven that the slip was in the person's possession with intent to gamble. This is one of the amendments that was considered by the Assembly Codes Committee and was repudiated.

Mr. Fallows said he would not permit an amendment to his bill, as he had seen the experience of others in permitting amendments which made a proposed law weak in its operation. He said the amendments would take the heart out of the bill, which was to correct an evil in New York city and especially among the poor people. He announced that the game was such a swindle that there was only one chance out of three for a person to win. It is an evil that is constantly growing. and mothers have been known to take the clothes off their babies' backs to pawn them in order to secure the few pennies necessary to

Messrs, Burnett, Gale and Phillips objected o the sweeping provisions relating to the proof necessary to convict a man of being a common gambler Mr. Rogers said it would do no good to send the bill back to the committee, for it had been thoroughly considered when before it and the committee did not feel disposed to act otherwise than it had. Mr. Rogers added that the sweeping provision relating to proof of being a common gambler was not such a severe one, as there is a law on ing to the possession of knockout drops on any one's person.

The opposition pointed out that it would be an easy matter for an enemy to drop a policy slip in one's pocket and then have him searched and convicted of being a common gambler. Mr. Phillips thought newspaper men would come under the ban of suspicion, for they carry paper in their pockets which could be easily construed to be policy slips.

Mr. Allds wanted the question fought out at once, and the motion to recommit was lost by a vote of 56 to 47. Mr. Barnes, the minority leader, was the first to vote against the bill.

Senator Ahearn introduced a bill providing that all of the New York city magistrates appointed, even after the charter was enacted, shall receive $7,000 salary. The magistrates were appointed under the law of 1895 at a salary of $7,000. The charter, however, provided that their successors should receive $6,000 only. Three city magistrates have been appointed since the charter went into effect. Senator Ford put in a bill increasing the salaries of these magistrates to $8,000.

Assemblyman Brennan's bill legalizing the appointment of thirty-one fremen in the fired partment of the former city of Brooklyhagain for the third time in three years was debated in the Assembly to-night. The fremen were appointed at a time when there was no civil service eligibility list and did not take an examination. They served thirteen months and were then dismissed. The minority members and Mr. Gherardl Davis opposed the bill when it came up on second reading, and objections were made by Messre Trainor, Phillips, Davis, Harburger and Green. The bill was advanced to a third reading.

COMMERCE COMMISSION'S BILLS. Seven of Them Sent to the Governor for the Action of the Legislature.

ALBANY, Feb. 26.-Mr. Ben. L. Fairchild, the attorney for the State Commerce Commission appointed by Gov. Black to recommend legislation to stay the decline in the commerce of the port of New York, to-day filed with Gov. ! Roosevelt a supplementary report, transmitting seven bills for the action of the Legislature which carry out the recommendations of the commission made in its report to Roosevelt a few weeks ago. Mr. Fairehild also handed to the Governor the resignations of the five members of the commission, who are Charles A. Schieren of Brooklyn, Andrew H. Green, C. C. Shayne, Alexander R. Smith and Hugh Kelly, of New York city. These resignations are due to a feeling of delicacy on the part of the members of the commission, in view of the fact that one of the bills recommended by them confers authority upon the commission to designate locations in Buffalo and in New York city for canal terminals for the receipt, storage and delivery of merchandise passing over the canals. This bill makes an appropriation of $50,000 to enable the commission to go ahead and locate the sites for such terminals, whereupon the State Superintendent of Public Works is to construct the same. When the terminals are established they shall be maintained according to regulations prescribed by the Commerce Commission. The commission believes these terminals to be essential to the future welfare of the capals, whether improved or not The second bill provides for the bonding of the State for $15,000,000 to complete the general canal improvements as inaugurated under the law of 1895, upon which $3,000,000 have already been spent. The commission believes that the canals improved as contemplated by the act of 1895 would give all the advantages which could be obtained by any canal, short of a ship canal constructed by the Federal Government. This position is in direct contrast to the stand taken by the Canal Commission, which recommends a twelve-foot, canal to cost $42,000,000. This difference of opinion has had something to do in framing the decision of the legislative leaders that no action upon the canal improvement question shall be taken this year further than to pass a bill making an appropriation of about $200,000, which would enable the State Engineer to go ahead and make complete surveys and estimates of the cost of the proposed improvements, so that the next Legislature will have definite knowledge upon which to base future canal improvement legislation.

The third bill recommended by the Commerce The second bill provides for the bonding of legislation.

The third bill recommended by the Commerce Commission amends the grain elevator law by reducing the maximum charge for elevating grain at New York and Buffalo to one-half cent a bushel. The present legal rate is five-eighths of a cent a bushel, but the commission asserts that the present law is evaded. The amended act aims to prevent evasions in the future.

The fourth bill amends the transportation law by eliminating the provision that a canal transportation corporation shall not have more than $50,000 capital.

The fifth bill amends the law which reserves piers in New York city for the use of canal boats. The amendment prevents railroad barges from using the same, thereby shutting out the canal boats.

The sixth bill prevents conveyances in perpetuity of lands under water within the limits of New York city, the ungranted lands, now amounting to 224 miles of shore front. The bill permits 25-year leases of such lands to the riparian owners.

The last bill provides that the title to water front property on the North River, between Gansevoort and Twenty-third streets, shall vest in the city four months after the appointment of condemnation commissioners. The Commerce Commission believes this bill to be necessary in order to permit the prompt completion by the New York city Dock Boa d of the improvements planned for that section to meet the present demands of ocean steam-ships for pier slips. The third bill recommended by the Commerce

THE GOVERNOR MISLED BY A NAME, He Gave Mrs. O'Connor of Rochester an Appointment Thinking She Was a Catholic. ALBANY, Feb. 26.-Gov. Roosevelt to-night said that Congressman James M. E. O'Grady of Rochester wrote to him some time ago requesting him to appoint a Catholic in his place as a manager of the State Industrial School at Rochester, as there were only two of the members of the Board of Managers of the Catholic faith, although about one-third of the inmates of the institution were children of Catholic parents. The Governor says he told Mr. O'Grady that of course he would do as he requested. He also notified Dr. Enoch V. Stoddard of Rochester, who is Vice-President of offence to be punished as a felony.

Assemblyman Demarest of Rockland county introduced a bill appropriating $1.000,000 to carry out the provisions of the Higbie Good

TEACHERS' SALARY SCHEDULE BILL GOLFER MACDONALD TALKS

The Draft of a New Measure About Com ALBANY: Feb. 26.-The sub-committee of the Senate Cities Committee has about completed a draft of a New York Teachers' Salary Schedule bill as agreed upon in New York last week. Senator D. F. Davis of Brooklyn has charge of the measure and it will be submitted to the Senate Cities Committee so that it can be reported favorably to the Senate on Wedesday.

The amended bill provides that the general school fund shall be applied to the payment of salaries of the supervising and teaching staffs of the schools, and that such fund shall be procured by the levy of a four-mill tax annually to be distributed according to a uniform sal ary schedule. This schedule, as heretofore published, has been changed by the committee so far as high school teachers are concerned, by providing that female teachers in the high and and training schools shall begin at $700 and in ten years reach a maximum salary of not less than $1,300. Female head teachers, female assistants and temale vice-principals, shall begin at $2,000 and in five years reach a maximum of not less than $2,500. Male teachers shall begin at $2,000 and in ren years reach a maximum of not less than $2,500. Male teachers shall begin at $1,300 and in ren years reach a maximum salary of not less than $2,500 and male head teachers, male assistants to principals, male first assistant principals and male vice-principals shall begin at $2,500 and in five years reach a maximum salary of $3,000. The board of examiners, instead of the city Superintendent of schools is to issue certificates to trachers upon the question of the equivalent of experience.

To meet any deficiencies in school appropriations for the present year, the Board of Estipublished, has been changed by the com-

of experience.

To meet any deficiencies in school appropriations for the present year, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is to transfer to the general school fund any unexpended balances of other funds, and if they are not sufficient, bonds shall be issued.

The remainder of the bill, as already published, is not changed in important particulars. Assemblym in Fallows, who passed a salary schedule bill of his own in the Assembly, endorses this amended bill, and with the questions contained in the salary schedule bill satisfactorily disposed of, Senator Elsberg will devote attention to his bill reorganizing the New York city school administration.

MRS. HART DEAD: 98 YEARS OLD. She Had Been Regarded as the Oldest In habitant of the City of New York.

Mrs. Fannie Buckland Hart, who has generally been regarded as the oldest inhabitant of this city, died at 11 o'clock last Sunday morning, or a little more than two weeks before she would have entered on her ninety ninth year. She had been ailing ever since she suffered from a stroke of apoplexy six months ago, but her mind remained clear and her interest in her surroundings undiminished to the last. Death came painlessly and almost without warning. Several of Mrs. Hart's children were at her deathbed. Her son Harry C. Hart. Tammany Hall leader in the Thirteenth Assembly district, was one of them, and another one was her eldest daughter. Mrs. Van Benschoten, who is now 70 years old.

Mrs. Hart was born on March 14, 1802, in the old colonial house near the present crossing of Greenwich and Hudson streets which belonged to her father. Col. Henry Buckland, a wealthy contractor. She married Col. Levi Hart, who commanded the Seventh Regiment during the twenties. He died about twenty years later. Ten children were born of the marriage, seven of whom are still alive. Besides the two already mentioned, there are William and John Hart, both well-known business men, and three daughters, Mrs. Stryker, Mrs. St. John and Mrs. Rider. The third generation is represented by about twenty grandchildren.

Mrs. Hart died at 204 East Eighty-second street, where her home had been for close to fifty years and where Harry C. Hart is now living. It was once a country residence, known as "Rockhall," but was later rebuilt to suit the cityfied surroundings. The funeral of Mrs. Hart will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning from her late residence. without warning. Several of Mrs. Hart's chil-

NOT THE AIM OF THE U. S. G. A. TO

OPPOSE THE SCOTTISH CODE. Simply Define Any of the Rules Which Might Be Misunderstood by Our Players-Garden City Seems to Be First Choice for Amateur Championship. Charles B. Macdonald, who will represent the Chicago Golf Club at the annual meeting of the U. S. G. A. to-morrow night, is one of the first of the delegates from the associate clubs to arrive in the city. Mr. Macdonald, with Laurence Curtis and A. M. Coats, has charge of the interpretation of the revised St. Andrew's rules, which, under the U. S. G. A. constitution, must at once be adopted to govern the game in this country. In a talk at the Holland House last evening Mr. Macdonald said :

"In interpreting the rules it is not the aim of the U. S. G. A. to set up an American code that will oppose the Scottish code in any way, but to define, in accordance with the true spirit of the game as played at old St. Andrew's, any of the rules which might be misunderstood by our players. The work in this instance will not be as heavy as when Mr. Curtis and myself made the interpretations of the former St. Andrew's rules in 1807, for then through correspondence with the leading authorities abroad we were able to an extent to be in harmany with many of the changes in the revised St. Andrew's code. The rules are less cumbersome and far more comprehensive than the old code and the committee has found it necessary to make but few interpretations. We have practically agreed by correspondence on all but two points. To-morrow afternoon we will hold a meeting at which the work will be finished and we will report at the meeting in the evening. I believe the report will be so complete that it will be adopted at once, and nothing further need be done by the committee except to read the proofs in the year book."

Regarding the location of the championships this year Mr. Macdonald said that while he had not consulted any of the Executive Committee he thought that the amateur championship would go to Garden City, while Shinnecock Hills, Baltusrol and possibly Lake wood would make strong efforts to secure the women's tournament. "Both the West and the East want the open championship," added Mr. Macdonald. "In as far as I may voice the desires of the Western applicants. I will say that no very bitter fight will be made to get the event, for the Western players have full confilence that the votes of the delegates will be cast for the course which will bring out the best contest, and whatever the delegates decide will be for the best interests of the game will suit our players."

Conversation with golfers of prominence about the city yesterday indicated that Garden City was the first choice for the amateur event, both Herbert M. Harriman and Walter J. Travis speaking in especial praise of the links as a true championship course. It looks as though both the Baitusroi and Shinnecock Hills links will have a strong support for the women's championship. The choice of links for the open championship seems to be an open question. A number of the M. G. A. professionals would rather pay at Baltusroi than journey either to Myopia or to the West. will be made to get the event, for the Western

He will return to his former employers, but it is not yet settled whether he will be located in this city or in chicago. The public links is now closed to allow the new spring turf to get a fair start, and the course will not be reopened until April. Meantime the project of organizing the players who use the Van Cortlandt links regularly into a club is making fine progress, and with the reopening of the links a permanent organization will have been effected, so that it will be practicable to run off regular handicap tournaments and to increase the general interest in the next competitions for the Morosini cup and other fixed events. The full plan for the rebuilding of the Harbor Hill Golf Club's house recently destroyed by fire was made public yesterday in accordance with the action at the special general meeting on Feb. 21.

The annual dues were raised from $15 to $20 and the dues of the associate members from $5 to $6. It was decided to build a new club-house, with improved accommodations, provided $3,000 can be raised, without causing any indebtedness to the club. It this is done the work will begin early in March and the building completed by May I. The increase in dues, figuring at $5 on 200 members, will provide $1,000 toward the building fund this year, and the remainder of the dues, $15 per member, will suffice for the maintenance of the course and all other expenses. DRANK WITH THEIR PRISOVERS. A Small but Merry Party of Travellers in an Uptown Bar Last Night. The barroom of the Colonial Hotel at the southwest corner of 125th street and Eighth avenue was crowded at 7 o'clock night when seven men suddenly walked in and stepping up to the bar ordered drinks. When the loungers in the place had an opportunity to look over the newcomers they discovered that four of them were handouffed together. The men seemed to be on the best of terms with their three companions, who were apparently officers of the law. The first round of drinks was drunk without any comment from the onlookers; but when any comment from the onlookers; but when the party started to go out again one of the men in the barroom invited them back to have another drink. They accepted at once, and the next hour was spent in drinking, the men in the barroom taking turns in treating. Everybody was having a good time, and no one seemed happier than the bandcuffed men. The officer in charge was a short stout man with a long beard, and beneath his coat was a large star, which he frequently displayed.

The officers were good natured until the crowd became inquisitive and wanted to know who the prisoners were. Then the man with the beard remarked that it was time to go. On being pressed he said the prisoners were from Queens county and that he was taking them "up the State." The men were half-way up the elevated steps when one of those who had been in the barroom called them back for one last drink. They came willingly, and prisoners and officers took a "nightcap" of whiskey.

SYSTEM IN MISSIONARY EFFORT. Episcopal Ministers Think Its Introduction Would Be Beneficial.

The first of a series of conferences arranged

o extend and systematize the efforts of the Episcopal Church in regard to missions was held yesterday at the mission at 281 Fourth avenue. The conferences were planned at a meeting of the Episcopal ministers of the city about a month ago was held in response to a call sent out by the Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, General Secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missions. About fifty ministers were at the meeting yesterday which was presided over by Mr. Lloyd. The Rev. Dr. Greer of St. Bartholomew's Church said that the time had come for a change in the method of collecting money for missionary objects and he advocated the regulation of what is known as specials by the Board of Missions. By specials are meant persons who go about among the churches making appeals for individual missionary enterprises. Dr. Greer declared that only one-third of the money collected from the churches passed through the hands of the board, hence its power and responsibility were not equal. He outlined a plan which he said, he would follow whether any one else did or not. No person should be allowed to appeal for offerings for any particular purpose, he said, unless the work had the imprimatur of the Board of Missions, which should have a general prospective of the whole field of missionary work. After a person had collected contributions he should then report to the board. Church said that the time had come for

SWEET SLEEP

After Long Nights of Torture!

The agony endured through loss of sleep can only be appreciated by those to whom a merciless fate has brought this experience. To lie in bed, minute after minute, hour after hour, night after night, unable to sleep; to roll and toss, to walk the floor, longing for sleep to close the aching eyes and rest the tired brain! Do you realize that biliousness accounts for three-fourths of the insomnia of to-day? Such is the fact; and it is equally true that no surer or safer remedy is known than that great liver invigorator, Warner's Safe Cure. Biliousness causing loss of sleep if neglected may lead to insanity-that awful state in which one is lost to himself and friends forever. No excuse for neglect. Warner's Safe Cure is procurable in every town in the United States and you are making no experiment in using it. Thousands have already testified to its curative merits in liver and in kidney disease.

FIGHTING

A Battle Between Sharkey and Fitzsim mone Imminent.

Unless the unexpected happens. Tom Sharkey and Bob Fitzeimmons will be matched on next Monday to fight at Coney Island. Tom O'Rourke informed a reporter of THE Sun yesterday that Fitz's lucre would be covered on Monday next. In order not to have any trouble regarding a referce. O'Rourke has sent word to Bob. stating that if articles of agreement are to be signed Tim Hurst, the Sea Side Sporting Club's official referee, must be agreed upon. Fitz sent back word that he had no objection to him acting in that capacity. Fitz seemed to be pleased over the prospect of facing Sharkey. "After all of these years of striving I'm at last to get a chance to show the public that Sharkey did not defeat me on the level at San Francisco. Every one who saw that battle knows that I won honestly. But so long as I am to get another crack at him I am say is deam to get another crack at him I am satisfied to forget that unfortunate incident. I don't care when the battle is decided, but I would like to have it settled as speedily as possible." O'Rourke says that if the match is arranged it will take place in the summer. He further declared that any ougilist or puzilists who sign to fight at his club will have to consent to Hurst as referee.

When Kid McCoy learned that Sharkey had concluded to ignore him he manifested much surprise. He said:

"I did all that was asked of me to get on a return fight and I can't make out why Sharkey won't tackle me first. I posted $1,000 a week ago, but he has not covered it. I suppose I will have to look elsewhere for a battle now."

Sammy Kelly and Austin Rice Draw. Sammy Kelly of this city, who has been in the ring for many years, fought a twenty round draw with Austin Rice of New London at the Hercules A. C. last night. Kelly's original opponent was to have been Eddie Lenny of Philadelphia, but illness prevented the latter from appearing. Kelly and Rice came together at 118 pounds under Marquis of Queensberry rules. Charley White was the ref-Kelly's showing was good when it is taken into consideration that he it is taken into consideration that he has not done much boxing of late. But that dash and vim which make him note I was lacking. He was not so strong as Rice, who did most all of the fighting. Sam, though, was clever. The decision was popular.

The opening bout and the only preliminary of the night was between Al Johnson, colored, of Albany and Tony Moran of this city. They clashed for twelve rounds at 118 pounds. Johnson had a peculiar way of punishing Moran's ribs, bringing both hands down in circular fashion. This made the crowd laugh. In the second, third and fourth rounds Johnson had Moran on the defensive, but his blows were weak and did not phase the white boy. After this Moran was aggressive and had no trouble in getting the verdict.

Walcott Will Fight Any Heavyweight, Bar Sharkey.

Joe Walcott's manager, Tom O'Rourke, issued a statement yesterday which goes to show that he has confidence in his protegé to beat any of the heavyweights in the business, barring Sharkey. Tom said: "I will match Walcott against any of the big fellows, including Jeffries, Corbett. Fitzfellows, including Jeffries, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Maher, McCoy, Ruhlin or Tommy Ryan, I will bar Sharkey for obvious reasons. Walcott was not in the best of shape when he whipped Choynski last Friday night or the fight would have been over earlier. I have always contended that Joe was a great puglist and I guess the public will agree with me now. As soon as any of the big fellows see fit to accept I will cover any money which they may put up." McGovern Goes to Lakewood to Train for

His Fight With Gardner. Terry McGovern began training yesterday for his coming encounter with Oscar Gardner the "Omaha Kid," which is to hold the boards at the Broadway A. C. on March 9. The featherweight champion will do his work at the pugilistic colony at Lakewood. McGovern. who is always in fine shape, will only have to reduce to the featherweight limit, at which weight he is to tackle the Rid. Terry says he expects to knock Gardner out inside of fifteen rounds. Gardner is said to be in excellent fettle, too.
